

1. Website Response Time:

This metric shows the percentage of pages for which the response time satisfies an agreed threshold. The response time is measured as the time between the HTTP[S] request being received at the point of entry into the FNZ network and the response transmission being initiated from the internet facing firewall of the FNZ network. In our case the threshold is set at 3 seconds, and the value reflects the percentage of pages that were downloaded with a value less than or equal to 3 seconds.

Service Level = Pages satisfying threshold ÷ Total number of pages downloaded

2. Website Availability:

This includes the availability of the website during core and non-core hours.

Calculation: The percentage is calculated as $100\% - \frac{\text{number of hours for which the Website is not available}}{\text{total number of hours for which the website should be available}}$. This metric is calculated on a monthly basis.
